Editors Comments

Due to work commitments Jeff was late to the club meeting on 6th May and there will be no President's report this month. A special thanks to Slim Moroney for chairing the meeting in Jeff's absence.

First of all thank you to Aaron Mclaws for performing the role of editor over the last twelve months. It is not easy balancing work, family and club commitments.

After much deliberation we decided to take on the role of magazine editors. Feedback from club members is it's time to revamp the magazine so we are looking for you to assist us with this by contributing in different ways. A new feature in each issue will be Member's Vehicle of the Month. We are looking for photos of club cars or machinery, with the owners, along with some vehicle history to feature in this section. Also your contributions for Auto Antics, items For Sale and Wanted, community events and general articles. The magazine is not set in concrete so please give your suggestions to improve the layout or what information is presented and how.

Thanks Travis Adams for passing on some previous Tech Talk articles. We will re-run some of these and add to these with new information. For this issue, Travis has contributed to the For Sale section and Lenny is promoting the Endeavour Foundation Trivia Night. Rob has contributed articles for future issues.

Andy Cohn re-developing and updating the Club's website www.combinedcoastalcarclub.com.au and Facebook pages <https://www.facebook.com/CombinedCoastalCarClub>. Social media is a fantastic way to share information and promote the club externally. Take a look at the web-site and "Like us" on Facebook.

With July almost upon us, and club fees due, we have an opportunity to update records and mailing lists. Look out for how to update membership details. Also a reminder that sponsor donations are due and fundraisers are scheduled. All these require member participation to ensure the club remains viable in the future.

David and Kym Anderson

Holden - Bits

Prime Minister Ben Chifley launches the 48-215 (FX) Holden

Holden Cars have become iconic motor vehicles in Australia since 1948. The Holden family history since 1854 and the development of today's General Motors Holden are featured. Classic Holden Cars, looks at the company development and growth in Australia along with information and pictures of every Holden from the first Holden manufactured in Australia, the 48-215 FX (1948) to the 2006 VE Commodore. You will find production numbers, the base price on introduction to the marketplace and as many pictures we could find.

Holden 48-215 Launch, November 1948

Holden has a special place in Australia's history as the manufacturer of the first all-Australian car, the 48-215 (FX). Since 1948, when the famous 48-215 took to the road, a succession of landmark models have driven themselves so deeply into the Australian way of life that they have become an integral part of it.

Along the way, the Holden name has acquired a significance and status all of its own, symbolised by a spirit of strength, ingenuity and adaptability.

Today, Holden employs more than 6300 people Australia wide and has produced more than seven million vehicles. As part of General Motors, the world's largest automotive company since 1931, Holden is evolving from a domestic manufacturer into an internationally competitive exporter of vehicles, engines and automotive expertise to diverse markets.

Holden's major operating facilities are located at Fishermans Bend (technical centre, administration and engine manufacturing plants), Dandenong (spare parts operation) and Lang Lang (automotive proving ground) in Victoria; as well as Elizabeth (vehicle manufacturing plant) in South Australia.

Although Holden Cars of the future will change in profile, be powered by different engines and introduce ever more innovative features, the process of change generated through such initiatives will be forever linked to the company's heritage by the Holden Car "Lion Emblem" displayed proudly on its products.

24th March - Silky Oak Tea Garden Car Run

Another beautiful Sunday saw members meet at the clubhouse and have a leisurely drive to the Silky Oaks Tea Garden just east of Gympie. A relaxed atmosphere with young Gympie talent playing music in the back ground lead to an entertaining lunch and conversation. Jeff's Monaro caught the eye of potential new club members who are rebuilding a couple of LX Toranas.
