Dating Certificates—From the Queensland Historic Motoring Club INC Newsletter

DATING CERTIFICATES At the January General Meeting a problem with a Club's dating certificate was raised by a delegate. The problem was when the certificate was presented at the Transport Office the certificate did not have Incorporated (Inc) after its name nor the incorporation IA number issued by the Office of Fair Trading on it. Thus it was rejected. On checking with TMR it was stated that these items need to be on the dating certificate to save embarrassment and rejection when applying for concessional registration. Note- Vehicles must be a minimum of 30 years old to apply for concessional registration.

INFORMATION Article permission of Greg Hill – Member of Veteran Car Club Australia (QLD) Inc. The History of Concessional Registration in Queensland The Veteran Car Club of Queensland was formed on 27th May 1956. Member's cars could be fully registered or operate on a day or weekend permit obtained by visiting the Main Roads Office in Albert Street Brisbane. This became a tiresome procedure, particularly for country members, so an alternative method was sought. Alan Sypher and Tim Osborne were both Club members and also business men in Brisbane. They were friends with the then manager of the Registration Branch, Mr Bill Clarke. Bill became a regular passenger on many early Club events. Bill Clarke could see the problems being experienced by Club members and decided to look into the problem with vehicle registration. A concessional registration system was introduced by the Main Roads which used standard issue registration plates, but at a reduced annual fee. This system worked well for veteran cars but by the mid 1960s it was decided that a special number plate format was required. A square Veteran plate with white print on a black background was introduced on 18th February 1968. The Queensland Historic Motoring Council Inc. – 1376 Old Cleveland Road, Carindale Qld 4152 first batch of numbers 001 to 200 was issued for cars. Plates 201 to 299 were issued for motor bikes on 31st May 1968. The next problem was how to distribute these new number plates. The Main Roads Dept decided to allocate them in order that the vehicles were first concessionally registered. Qld Veteran plate 001 was issued to Tim Osborne for his 1912 Waverley on 18th February 1968. A later batch of Veteran plates 300 to 999 was available but No. 411 was the last Veteran plate to be Issued on 29th September 1998. Qld Vintage number plates were first issued on 11th May 1970 with 001 to 200 and 300 to 1199 being issued with black print on a white background. Motorcycle number plates were issued from 201 to 299. In 1980 Qld vintage number plates from 1200 to 9999 were issued with green print on a white background. Qld Historic plates were introduced on 23rd November 1978 for later models. These were black background with white print and numbers ranging 1000 to 9999. Qld Historic plates for motorbikes were introduced on the same date with a number range from 100 to 999. There seems to be an overlap as Historic plates were issued to some Veteran and Vintage vehicles while other vehicles were still issued Veteran and Vintage plates. The 30year rolling date for Classic and Historic vehicles was granted on 24th December 1985. The "S" plates starting at number 10000 were introduced in July 1998 to overtake all previous concessional number plates.
